The Australian and New Zealand College of Veterinary Scientists offers Membership with Honours in Small Animal Medicine MANZCVS(Hons) to engage and recognise existing Small Animal Medicine Members who wish to challenge themselves and continue to build and refine their knowledge but don’t necessarily want to train towards becoming specialists. Membership with Honours in Small Animal Medicine will be open to veterinarians who have held a membership in Small Animal Medicine for at least four years. They are required to submit a credentials document which includes an original, first-author, scientific peer-reviewed publication and details of attendance at a scientific meeting and delivery of an oral presentation at a scientific meeting. Potential candidates must obtain a 75% pass mark in each section of the examination.

Registraion of intent to sit Membership examinations for admission to the College in 2013 or later is now invited from members of the veterinary profession. Registrants will be given access to a mentor database to obtain guidance and counselling on examination requirements. Formal application for examination need not be made until 31 October in the year preceding the year of examination.
